What to wear?

Students at the Academy are encouraged to be relaxed and at ease. For this reason, it is recommended that loose, comfortable trousers and tops are worn that enable easy movement and do not restrict the body. All loose tops and shirts should be tucked in to prevent 'trailing' on the client. Shoes should be flat-heeled and comfortable. Uniforms may also be worn but are not compulsory unless there is an external examiner present. Uniforms can be bought from the Hinckley Academy Shop.

Penny Price Academy Insurance

The Penny Price Academy, incorporating the Sandra Day School, has a block school insurance scheme with Balen's Insurance Company to cover the therapies that you study. In order to join this scheme, simply phone 01684 893006 and ask to be added as a therapist or student to our scheme. Extra therapies can be added as and when necessary.

PPA Mission Statement

The Penny Price Academy is committed to providing excellent quality products and training courses. Our company policy is to achieve the following:

- To train students to the best of their own ability and to encourage reflective practice and individualism
- To empower the student with confidence in the tools of their therapy
- To provide a safe, comfortable learning environment for all students
- To have codes of ethics, practice, ethnic and religious equality and age awareness
- To have both student disciplinary procedures and student complaint systems in place that are user friendly and appropriate
- To provide products from ethical sources to benefit the supplier and the customer without compromise to the environment
- To work ethically with suppliers and students to offer appropriate levels of support to both

Penny Price Aromatherapy is a dynamic, expanding company that values its suppliers, students and customers at all times.
